"Time is free, but it's priceless.
You can't own it, but you can use it.
You can't keep it, but you can spend it.
Once you've lost it you can never get it back."

Harvey Mackay

PERSONAL TIME

Today's time is never enough. Today's time grows short and the brief hours become a longing for what was never done. It's always running and it's precious, if well spent, if spent with the quintessential of life.

A wide-angle photograph of a wooden dock extending from the foreground into a calm lake. The dock is made of dark wooden planks and has two yellow metal handrails. The water is still, reflecting the sky and the surrounding forest. The background shows a dense line of trees under a soft, hazy sky, suggesting a peaceful morning or evening setting.

A wide-angle landscape photograph capturing a sunset or sunrise. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the left side, partially obscured by a dark, silhouetted mountain peak. The sky transitions from a deep orange near the horizon to a pale yellow at the top. In the foreground and middle ground, several mountain ranges are visible, their peaks and ridges softened by atmospheric haze. The mountains are mostly in silhouette, with some showing the texture of evergreen forests. The overall mood is serene and majestic.
