Our chef Luis Salvajoli strives for the perfect blend of traditional recipes and Brazilian ingredients with international haute cuisine, achieving results that combine simplicity with delicious flavours. All items are chosen with great care and sourced from the best local, national and international suppliers. First-rate quality is a minimum requirement. Pride of place is reserved for seafood dishes, in particular for Santa Catarina's famous oysters, which many people consider the best in the world, such is their taste, texture and delicacy. Here in Governador Celso Ramos, it is the mussels that are famous for their flavour, colour and texture. This is one of the most important mussels-producing areas in Brazil.

Hint: Couples wanting the ultimate exclusive romantic dinner can reserve the gazebo on a small island close to the beach, where a dedicated waiter will ensure nothing is lacking. The island can only be reserved by one couple each night.
