Wellness Inspired Gastronomy

Food and healthy dining form an integral part of our wellness concept.

Guests have a choice of two types of cuisine: Spa Cuisine and Raw Foods dining.

Breakfast, lunch and dinner are served in our al fresco Ton Sai restaurant where guests can enjoy succulent fishetarian dishes with only the best the sea has to offer.

For a Raw Foods dining experience, we are proud to suggest our 'Dining at the Point' restaurant located at the tip of the island with a breathtaking view on Phang Nga Bay.

Our chefs also feel strongly that our guests should be able to take something home with them, after the time they spend with us. We therefore offer cooking classes in our 'Cuisine Cave' preparing our guests to also bring wellness cuisine to their own dining table, back home.

In addition we make sure our weekly event calendar includes pizza baking, island barbecues and special dishes prepared in our own tandoori oven, making sure dining experiences at the Six Senses Destination Spa are most memorable.
